R. B. Bennett Elected Leader Conservatives on the Second Ballot

Amphibolous, Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Hon. R. B. Bennett is the new leader of the Conservative party. On the second ballot, the convention held Wednesday afternoon accorded him two more votes than the necessary one-half of all votes cast. The second ballot stood: Bennett, 730; Guthrie, 520; Cahan, 266; Manion, 148; Rogers, 87; Drayton, 3; total, 1554.

To secure election Mr. Bennett needed to have 778 votes; he actually secured 780.

Led From Start

Indicating the feeling that has been growing in the convention during the past two days, and especially since Hon. Howard Ferguson of Ontario dropped out of the picture, Mr. Bennett led the field of six candidates at the first ballot by a substantial margin. The total number of votes cast was 1554 and of these 594 went to Mr. Bennett.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, the temporary leader, came second with 520; and C. H. Cahan, M.P., the favorite from Quebec, third with 266, more than twice as many as his nearest competitor.

As the convention assembled there were those who said that Mr. Bennett might be able to get it at the first ballot. Alberta friends were confident. It was said that Mr. Guthrie was not hopeful.

Margin of Two Votes

The plan of the election was for the voting to continue until Mr. Bennett received a majority of all votes cast. Thus Mr. Bennett was declared elected with a margin of two votes over the required number, although far in the lead of his next competitor.

With the result known, Mr. Guthrie, who it is expected, will now resign from his position as leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, and saying that it was a matter of satisfaction that the result was so decisive, moved that the "election of Hon. R. B. Bennett be made unanimous." Mr. Cahan seconded the motion, pleading for it to get behind the new leader and give him a splendid victory from the Atlantic to the Pacific. As Mr. Manion arose, he said, "Third" to the motion, and was greeted enthusiastically from all sections of the hall. Mr. Rogers followed and was greeted similarly, creating a hysterical visit to the sections in the galleries.

But for Mr. Bennett, there was a deafening cheer as he walked to the microphone and the lights for the photographers flashed.

Emotionally affected, Mr. Bennett proceeded to express his thanks for the generous support and exhorted his followers to higher efforts. The question of his acceptance if elected, had been settled definitely the evening before when he was put in nomination, although it was generally believed during recent weeks that he would permit his name to go before the convention if he were assured of satisfactory support.

HOLSTEIN AVERAGE $850 PER HEAD AT HOLLYHOCK AUCTION

Oconomowoc, Wis., Oct. 8.—The auction of Col. Gustave Pabst's famous Holsteins, held at the National Dairy Show in 1925, established the highest price in the herd. She was sold for $10,000 to R. V. Rasmussen, of Deerfield, Ill.

JEAN HOLBROOK WINS GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MEDAL

Following the practice of his predecessors, His Excellency, Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, has donated to each school in the province a bronze medal to be awarded to the pupil taking the highest number of marks in the departmental Grade VIII examinations, and the medals are now going forward to the successful candidates. The winner in the Wetaskiwin is Jean Holbrook, a student of Manito school.

EDMONTON MEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR MILLET

C. W. Johnson and C. McWhirter, both of Edmonton, had a narrow escape from serious injury on Tuesday when the auto in which they were travelling ran into the ditch a short distance south of Millet, and both men received minor injuries. They were brought to the Wetaskiwin hospital where they underwent a thorough examination, where it was found they were not badly hurt. It is supposed something went wrong with the running parts of the car, which caused it to swerve off the road.

Obituary

MRS. PAULINE SMITH

The hand of death visited the home of Mrs. G. Smith of the Millet district Wednesday last week and removed his beloved wife, Pauline, at the age of fifty-five years. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband and family of three sons and three daughters, namely, Ernest, Samuel and Martin, all of the Millet district, and Mrs. Wm. Pohl, Mrs. August Pohl and Mrs. Andrew Wetter of Castor. The funeral, which was held on Monday, was conducted by Rev. P. Baum, Baptist minister of Leduc, service being held in the Wetaskiwin church, and the interment took place in the Wetsenthal cemetery.

MRS. ABERCROMBIE

Another of the pioneer settlers of the Wetaskiwin district passed away at the home of her son in Falun on Monday, in the person of Mrs. Amy Melina Abercrombie. She was born in Quebec, and was aged seventy-three years, one month and six days. About twenty years ago she came west and located on a farm in the Falun district and since that time she has been one of the most highly esteemed residents of the district. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, service being conducted at Moore's Undertaking Chapel by Revs. Elliott, Johnston and Meyer. The interment took place in the Wetaskiwin cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss Rev. P. P. Abercrombie of the Falun district, and two daughters, besides a host of friends and acquaintances.

WIFE FAINTS WHEN HUSBAND SENTENCED

Red Deer, Oct. 7.—Circumstantial evidence was yesterday considered by a Red Deer jury strong enough to convict Jack Fisher, an Innisfail farmer, of the theft of seven loads of grain from a neighbor, Elmer M. Fry, for whom he was working, and they found him guilty in spite of the total absence of any direct evidence of the theft.

The prisoner's wife was in court, and when Mr. Justice Walsh passed sentence of one year at Fort Saskatchewan, she uttered a muffled shriek and collapsed, later coming out of a dead faint into a hysterical fit that lasted for several minutes.

The complainant, Elmer M. Fry, went to the States for a month and when he returned found by measurement and estimate, a shortage of about 900 bushels in his wheat, seed oats and feed oats. Police inquiry at the Innisfail elevator as to who had sold them grain without being known to have grain of his own for sale, narrowed the suspicion down until it pointed almost with certainty to the accused.

He had sold seven loads to the National elevator, for the possession of which he could not account to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

CLAIMS GARNET WHEAT GIVES BIGGEST YIELD

Ingles Brothers of the Gwynne district, who have been doing some experimental work in the sowing of grain, had a very interesting, and what will likely prove to be a very profitable, experience this year. On May 9th they sowed Garnet wheat on fourteen acres of breaking; they cut this crop on August 24th and 25th, and threshed it on September 16th, getting a yield of thirty-seven bushels to the acre, which graded No. 2 Northern. They also had areas sowed in Marquis wheat as well as Red Bobs, and they claimed that the Garnet was cut some days earlier than the other two varieties, it stood to the yield was also greater.

(The Times would be glad to give the experience of any other farmers in the Wetaskiwin district who are experimenting in the growing of crops.)

CASE AGAINST ELKS AT COLEMAN DROPPED

Coleman, Oct. 8.—A charge against the local Elks lodge arising out of the recent carnival was made by the provincial police, being that people were induced to hazard money by wheels of fortune. The case was to have been tried by Magistrate Gresham at Blairmore, Sergeant Duncan of the provincial police acting for the Crown. R. P. Barnes, barrister of Coleman, appeared for the Elks, and the case was withdrawn. The practice of operating these wheels is common at community carnivals throughout the west, and there has been large sums of money raised for community purposes as a result of the Elks' public opinion was not in favor of action being taken. In this connection the traveling fair of Conklin and Garret, showed at Blairmore recently, and wheels were operated without action being taken to prevent it.

SAMPLE FAIR AND SALE FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10

There are some special features of the United Church Ladies' Aid Sample Sale worthy of notice.

- 1—The goods have all been donated and will be sold at bargain prices.
- 2—There is a wide range of commodities to choose from, and being samples, will naturally be first class goods, and should encourage further sales through the regular merchants.
- 3—The proceeds of the sale are for the New Church Bazaar Fund.
- 4—Tos will be served.
- 5—An orchestra will be in attendance.
- 6—June Montgomery, L.T.C.M., will render a musical program.

GRANT PAULSON WAS INSTANTLY KILLED

Word was received in Wetaskiwin on Monday of the terrible accident, which happened to Grant Paulson of the Asker district on Monday morning while working on a threshing machine. It appears the blower of the machine was not working properly and in endeavoring to adjust it, he slipped and was drawn into the machine. He was terribly mangled and died instantly. The sad accident happened on the farm of his brother, thirteen miles east of Ponoka.

Deceased was held in the highest esteem in the entire community and was widely known, as he was a U.P.A. director and active worker in the interests of the farmers' movement. He was also a brother of first prize cattle.

He leaves to mourn his untimely death, a wife and family of small children, his father, Carl Paulson, and several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place at Asker on Wednesday afternoon.

JUDGE RULES MAN CANNOT STEAL HIS OWN PROPERTY

John Samograd, of Chipman, was acquitted on a charge of theft after a trial by jury at the Assizes at Regina. He was charged with the theft of a bag from the G.N.R. Accused had pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted false pretences. A. P. Bwing K.C., defence counsel, stated that accused had picked up his baggage at the Lamont station when he got off a night train on June 25, and next day presented the check to the agent, later giving information for the filing of a claim of $50 that the club bag was lost by the Company in transit. The judge held that the man could not steal his own property. He was given a fine of $200 or one year in jail for false pretences.

THRESHING UP FOR FARMERS

Loughed, Ala., Oct. 7.—Many threshers men who have large gangs of men on their hands have decided to pay them off rather than feed them over the long spell of bad weather. Other owners of threshing outfits are taking the opportunity of engaging some of the men so as to have a full gang when threshing operations commence. Threshing wages have been raised from $1.00 per day for feed and eight dollars for a man and team and eight dollars a day for cooks. In consequence of these high wages the price of threshing has been raised accordingly.

A WINNING POLICY

Great successes are rarely founded on luck. This is as true of newspaper publishers as individuals. The policy of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, since its first issue, about 90 years ago, has been to go on improving each issue from week to week, and give its readers the best value that brains and money could produce. That policy has certainly succeeded. Today The Family Herald and Weekly Star has over one million readers, certainly something to boast about in Canada. It sticks to its policy and won the race on merit. Its readers won the race on merit, its readers won the race on merit, its readers won the race on merit. It is a good thing that is appreciated. At one dollar a year for that big weekly of 72 pages no home in Canada can afford to be without it.

SCHOOL NOTES

Through the courtesy of the Wetaskiwin Times, we shall endeavor to bring before the parents of the city and district, from time to time, items of interest pertaining to the educational welfare of their boys and girls in attendance at the local schools, both High and Public.

The aim of the teachers is to obtain the greatest possible degree of co-operation between parents, pupils and instructors, and we believe that in manner of aiding in the attainment of this purpose is through the medium of this column.

We take this opportunity, at the beginning of the school year, to invite your enquiries regarding your child's progress and standing. We also request to announce that teachers will be pleased to confer with parents at the school on such matters.

During the past week a program of home study has been mapped out, which, it is hoped, will be helpful to the pupils of the High School. Under the new plan a student is advised to give his or her attention to about four subjects a night, instead of seven or eight as has previously been the case. The purpose of this is to permit of concentration on a smaller number of subjects, and to encourage the scattering of efforts over a larger number. It will also have another advantage—there will be less burden, some carrying of books from and to school. It is not intended that the pupils put less time each night on home study than formerly, but rather that more time will be devoted to each of the fewer subjects than heretofore.

This plan need not be rigidly adhered to. Should a student be weak in one or two subjects, it would appear advisable to spend more time on them than is allowed for in the schedule. This scheme is being tried in the form of an experiment. Unforeseen difficulties may arise and render it unworkable. However, we cannot see that any injury will result to the student adopting it. In order that it may be fairly tested, we request the parents to keep close observation on its working, at home, for the next two weeks, and then to inform us, by mail, phone or personal call, of their opinion regarding the advisability of continuing the plan.

Following is the suggested plan:

Grade IX.

Monday and Wednesday—Comp. Geom., Science, Latin.

Tuesday and Thursday—Lit., Hist., Alg., French.

Friday—Any subjects.

Grade X.

Monday and Wednesday—Comp. Geom., Science, Latin.

Tuesday and Thursday—Lit., Hist., Phys., French.

Friday—Any subjects.

Grade XI.

Monday and Wednesday—Lit., Chem., Arithmetic, French.

Tuesday and Thursday—Comp. Geom., Hist., Alg., French.

Friday—Any subjects.

HAS NO POWERS TO STOP LIQUOR EXPORT

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Hon. W. D. Eider, Minister of National Revenue, made it clear today that under present law, he has no power to stop the export of liquor to the United States. The department of justice, he stated, has no interpreted the law. If export of liquor to the United States is to be stopped, it can be done only by action of the Canadian Parliament.

Mr. Eider was shown a dispatch from St. Catharines stating that action by Ottawa to stop rum running was demanded at a meeting of the Niagara Presbytery of the United Church of Canada. As far as the department of national revenue was concerned, the minister said it has no power to refuse a clearance. As long as the revenue requirements were met by the exporters, the department must grant the clearance. Export of liquor from Canada was not illegal.

LACOMBE YOUTH ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Lacombe, Alta., Oct. 10.—Bruce Jamieson, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jamieson, was accidentally shot in the neck by his young sister, Jean, aged seven, on Saturday afternoon, while on a hunting trip on the shores of Barnett lake. The two young hunters had traversed the shore line of the lake looking for game and sat down to rest. Young Dunphy started to get up and pulled his loaded .22 rifle towards him. The rifle went off and the bullet struck Bruce on the right side of the Adam's apple, detoured around back of the jugular vein and lodged in the shoulder blade. An X-ray was taken Sunday morning and the attending physicians did not find any serious damage done and look for a speedy recovery for the young hunter.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY CASE DECIDED BY COURTS

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 5.—In deciding what course to pursue in restraining the Canadian National Railway from putting into effect an agreement concerning seniority rights of locomotive engineers and firemen on the lines of the company in Western Canada, Mr. Justice Curran in the Supreme Court of Canada has rendered a judgment of considerable interest and importance to the steam transportation industry in Canada, inasmuch as it affects approximately 7,000 engineers and firemen in the Dominion.

The action was brought against the Canadian National Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian National Railway Company by William Ross and George C. Jordan, an engineer and fireman respectively employed on the lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's lines, claiming to act on behalf of themselves and all engineers and firemen employed on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company system and on (at part of the Canadian National Railway) extending from Oshawa, Ontario to Transcona, Manitoba. The plaintiffs sought an injunction against putting into effect an agreement dated May 1, 1926, made between the Canadian National Railway on the one part and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen on the other part, under which the seniority lists of the engineers and firemen on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system, the western lines of the Canadian Northern and the western part of the Canadian Government Railway should be consolidated and two new seniority districts established. This agreement was the outcome of extended negotiations between representatives of the men and the railway company and was finally reached on May 1, 1926, after negotiations between the company and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The plaintiffs' case was that under the existing seniority lists governing their employment, agreements concerning seniority rights could only be made by the General Committee of Adjustment of the Engineers and the General Grievance Committee of the Firemen employed on their respective lines and that (as agreement was ultra vires of the Grand Lodge).

Among other defenses raised, the railway pleaded: that all parties interested in the agreement were not before the court, particularly the Brotherhood Grand Officers and the Canadian Northern Engineers and Firemen had not been made parties; that the agreement was not a bona fide agreement; that it was not authorized by the Grand Lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

FORMER MAYOR OF WAINWRIGHT JAILED

Edmonton, Oct. 7.—John Gorow, former Mayor of Wainwright, was sentenced Thursday to one year's imprisonment for supplying drugs knowing they were intended to be unlawfully used. Sentence was passed by Mr. Justice Simmons.

THRESHING DELAYED IN MANY PARTS OF WEST THRU POOR WEATHER

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 10.—Bad weather has delayed threshing all this week through the West, reports the Canadian Pacific Railway agricultural department, this morning. Rains have not been heavy but sufficient to tie up practically all work except a small percentage of fall plowing. Conditions over the week-end, however, have improved somewhat, and much threshing will recommence this morning. At present farmers are anxious to get threshing done, labor shortage being more keenly felt, and in spite of the fact that wages offered are higher than usual, men are hard to get. The situation, however, will right itself with an improvement in weather conditions, as many districts will quickly complete threshing and release men to other areas, not so far advanced. Where work is not commencing yet, farmers have plowed during intervals when threshing machines have been unable to operate.

PERMIT SYSTEM TO PACIFIC PORTS

Winnipeg, October 7.—Commencing midnight, Monday, October 10, the Canadian National Railway will put into effect the permit system on all grain for export to the ports of Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Announcement to this effect was made today by T. P. White, superintendent of car service, Canadian National Railway, who stated that the restriction was designed to control the movement of export grain to these ports and to prevent congestion.

Town Topics

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Jorgensen, Friday, Oct. 14, at 3 p.m.

Miss Rose Reist left a few days ago for Foreburg, where she has accepted a position as teacher.

Hugh McGrandle, who has been visiting relatives at High River returned to Wetaskiwin the end of the week.

Ralph Walker and Richard Chandler, who went to the Coast a few months ago, returned home last week.

Mrs. J. H. Macdonald accompanied her daughter Jean to Edmonton last week, and spent several days with relatives and friends. Jean is now enrolled as a student at the University of Alberta.

Mrs. F. E. Kelly of North Cooking Lake, is spending a few days in the city renewing old acquaintances. She is the guest of Mrs. Geo. H. Bayless, who entertained on Tuesday afternoon in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Grant of Glendale, Cal., parents of Mrs. Somers; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. MacKegg of Calgary, and Miss Grant of Edmonton, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Somers.

The friends of Mrs. A. E. Wynne are glad to learn that she is improving nicely from the operation she recently underwent in the Wetaskiwin hospital. She was moved to her home the first of the week.

The officers and members of the Order of the Royal Purple held a most successful dance on Friday evening last, with a large crowd in attendance. The music was furnished by the Elks' Moonbeam Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Lykken have taken up their residence at the home of Mrs. Bertha Lykken, where they expect to remain for the winter months. Mrs. Lykken was formerly Miss Gladys Mattson.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Macdonald, of Steno, Alberta, have just returned from an extended trip through the States and Eastern Canada. They are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnson of Lantz, on their return home.

Among those who left on Saturday to attend the big Conservative convention in Winnipeg this week were C. H. Russell and D. MacKegg of Wetaskiwin. H. C. Cooke, who went to Ontario to visit relatives a couple of weeks ago, is also in attendance at the convention.

Mr. Stow, who has been the affable teller at the Wetaskiwin branch of the Bank of Montreal for some time, was promoted to the Calgary branch last week and assumed his new duties on Monday. He is being succeeded here by Mr. O'Brien, who comes from the branch at Penhold.

The unfavorable and discouraging weather, which has held up threshing for several days, took a turn for the better on Monday, when the sun came out brightly, and it would now appear as if the farmers will have an opportunity of getting their crop threshed in good condition. Threshing operations were resumed on Tuesday.

The Institute Girls' Club has organized a string instrument orchestra. Eighteen girls were present at the last meeting. The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 18, in the W.I. rooms. A paper on "Russian Songs in China" will be read by Madeline Timinoff. All members are urged to be present and visitors are welcome.

Miss I. M. Lucas, R.N., left for Quebec Monday night. She is taking a post graduate course in the Laurentian Sanatorium, having leave from the Indian Department, where she is employed.

Pastures and livestock are in excellent condition and markets have experienced the heaviest rain of cattle during the past week for this season.

In Manitoba 65 to 70 per cent of the grain has been threshed, grades being varied. Oats is pretty much of a failure, with barley a splendid crop.

About 55 per cent of the grain in Saskatchewan has been threshed, and in Alberta 15 to 20 per cent of the grain has been threshed, grades being varied. Oats is pretty much of a failure, with barley a splendid crop.

Wheat is grading mostly two and three, with considerable of it tough, owing to farmers rushing threshing before grain is ready.

IMMANUEL CHURCH PROPOSE TO LEASE PARISH HALL TO GROWN

An important public meeting of the parishioners of the above parish was held in the parish hall on Thursday, October 6, to consider the question of the leasing of the parish hall to the Department of National Defence of H.M. Government for a period of three years.

The Vicar (Rev. D. MacQueen) was in the chair and the Ven. Archdeacon G. Howcroft, D.D., of Camrose, was present as the representative of H.M. Government.

A meeting of the Vestry had previously been held in the Vicar's rooms and unanimously recommended that the hall be leased for three years upon the conditions which were presented, subject, of course, to the Bishop's approval.

This recommendation was accepted by the meeting with a large majority. The Archdeacon dealt briefly with the matter of self support and the Vicar assured him that the matter would be carefully considered by the Vestry and that every possible effort would be made in his direction.

At the conclusion the choir leader (Mr. E. C. C. Holbrook) favored the meeting with a solo, accompanied by Miss G. Wilkins.

NO CHANGES PLANNED IN LIQUOR ACT AT NEXT SESSION, SAYS PREMIER

Premier J. E. Brownlee, in an interview, said that no changes in the regulations or amendments to the Alberta Liquor Act were contemplated at the next session of the provincial legislature.

"The act is working smoothly," the premier said.

With regard to the legislature regulating billboards and signs, Premier Brownlee said he had not discussed the situation since his return from his trip to England. The act had been passed and all that was necessary now was to have the regulation put into effect by order-in-council.

T. A. P. FROST, WELL-KNOWN ALBERTAN, PASSES

The death of Mr. T. A. P. Frost took place at the Hospital, Ponoka, on Tuesday morning, after a lingering illness. Mr. Frost, who was 65 years of age, was born in England, and resided in Toronto for a time, where he entered the ministry of the Baptist church. He came west, and was in charge of the Baptist church in Calgary for a number of years. Leaving the ministry, he was a member of the city council, and when the Great War broke out, volunteered his services, and on returning from overseas received an important appointment at Government, which he filled with the Hospital under the Provincial greatest of acceptance—Ponoka Herald.

Martha Carter and her sister Augusta lived in a fine old house which stood at the corner of Peel and Earl streets. Possessed of a comfortable income and most excellent health it would seem as if the two women might have had almost an ideal life together, but it was known by their friends and neighbors that they were secret enemies.

Today the sisters were sitting together in their cozy livingroom, a bright fire burned in the grate. Martha was sitting as usual, and Augusta, poised near the front window, was reading the "Doll's House" for the tenth time. Bingo lay on a cushion before the fire. Silence reigned because the sisters were not speaking. Suddenly they were startled by a loud knocking at the back door.

Augusta hastened to answer the summons. When she opened the back door she was surprised to find an expressman, on the step beside him stood a good sized crate. The man touched his cap and held out an open book.

"Sign here, ma'am," he said in a business-like way. Augusta took the book and pencil he offered and signed as directed. Whereupon the expressman slid the crate through the open door and turned and walked briskly away.

Augusta stood eyeing the crate and was just bending to get a closer look when she was startled by a high pitched voice saying in a smothered voice:

"Oh, spare my tender blushes!" Augusta recoiled in consternation. "Let me out! Let me out!" demanded a quite different voice, a man's voice this time. "You poor fish! Quit blinking!"

Clinging to the bars of the huge cage which the crate contained, scrambling with wings and beak, was a large gray bird with a wicked beak and watchful eyes. A parrot!

Now Augusta had always longed for a parrot and this was a superb specimen of its kind. But upon the large card attached she read her sister's name as well as hers.

"Martha! Martha!" she cried. And Martha came as fast as her thick legs would permit. Her astonishment was great. Together they knocked the cleats off the crate and removed the gleaming wire cage.

The parrot danced and capered on its perch; he hung wrong side up, spit out seeds, he laughed, screamed and sang. When Martha attempted to speak he bade her "shut up, strawberry." Martha's face was naturally very red. He called Augusta "old goose!" and he yelled "scat! scat!" until Bingo fled in a panic.

Mrs. Bell came in to see Polly. "It's probably 70 years old," she said. The sisters stared aghast. "And worth several hundred dollars." They looked at each other in amazement. Nothing so odd or exciting had ever happened to the sisters, and they found themselves highly diverted. They hung about the cage for hours while Polly went through her paces, using first one voice and then the other; whistling, singing, cawing, even swearing at them. They laughed more than they had ever laughed they grew merry and forgetful of ill feelings. The day Polly told Augusta, she was his "buddy-dory" she fell upon Martha's shoulder and laughed until she cried.

One rainy afternoon the door bell rang. Visitors! Augusta peeping out saw Mrs. Bell and a man! Martha hastening downward, little knew whom she was about to admit. As a matter of fact she didn't know Casper Hunter until Mrs. Bell introduced him.

"The parrot went wild at sight of him,"

"Hello, old top!" he shrieked. Casper thrust his finger into the

Women Know Best

"Fruit-a-tives" Make and Keep You Well

MRS. O. MONACH

Thousands and thousands of women have tried "Fruit-a-tives" during the past quarter of a century. Many of these, like Mrs. O. Monach, took "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort after having failed to get relief from any other remedy. And their experience has been invariably the same—"Fruit-a-tives" saved them from constipation, biliousness, headaches, indigestion, backache and kindred troubles which they had almost given up hope of ever being well again.

Writing from Frenchville, Sask., Mrs. Monach says, "I have taken many kinds of medicine, but none prove so good as 'Fruit-a-tives' for me. It is the only medicine I take—I use it regularly and do not feel right if I do not."

Let "Fruit-a-tives" be your medicine and help you to get well and keep well. Buy a box today. 25c and 50c—everywhere.

came and the bird pretended to bite him. "I brought the old fellow from South America. I couldn't keep him any longer, because I move around so much and I wouldn't sell him. I wrote to my cousin here, asking her to take him and she refused. She suggested I send him to you. She said you, Augusta, had always wanted a parrot."

"I have," Augusta admitted. "It was very kind of you, Casper. I'm sure Martha and I both appreciate Polly. We find him very amusing."

"He knows a lot of naughty words," said Martha.

"Well, I never taught him a thing. If he knows naughty words he's picked them up on his own hook. You'll find you'll have to be very careful what you say before him."

Casper stayed a fortnight. He could not be persuaded to stay longer, because he was by nature very restless. The sisters were almost glad to see the last of him.

"It was awfully kind of him to give us Polly," Martha said.

"Yes, indeed, dear, I rather think Polly is the best part of the whole affair," returned Augusta.

FEDERAL GOVT. TO HOLD SALE OF SCHOOL
LANDS IN NOVEMBER

It is reported that the Dominion Government is preparing to hold a sale of School Lands in different parts of the province in November. At the present time the lands are being inspected and information regarding the description of the lands, price and terms should soon be available. The last sale of school lands in this district was in May, 1911, when a large number of parcels were disposed of. There is still much land held by the Government in this district, and the present sale seems an opportune time to offer it to the public.

CHINESE TO TAKE COMPLETE CHARGE OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN ALL CHINA

Shanghai, October 8.—A purely Chinese administration, non-sectarian Christian Church, to be known as "The Church of Christ in China," has been organized by 34 Chinese delegates from 16 China provinces. The delegates represent the churches originally organized by 16 foreign denominations from Europe, Canada, New Zealand and the United States, Presbyterians and Congregationalists playing the leading part.

The new church will include more than 1000 missionary established churches, comprising not less than 120,000 Christians, somewhat over a fourth all Chinese Christians.

The new organization has been brought about after nine years' work by both Chinese and foreign Christians and the homeland denominations affected are supporting the move.

The leaders declare that the present organization is merely the nucleus which will ultimately include all Christian bodies in China.

The aim is to place the churches entirely in the hands of the Chinese, retaining missionaries merely as advisers, subject to the authority of the Chinese, and completely abolishing sectarianism.

About 300 American and 400 British missionaries are affected. Cheng Ching Yie, foremost Chinese Christian, has been elected moderator of the new church.

MRS. H. WIELICKO
ASSESSED $20.00 FOR BREACH OF QUARANTINE

In the police court at Camrose on Monday afternoon, before Police Magistrate J. B. Gallagher, Mrs. Harry Wielicko, Polish, of the Hay Lake district, was assessed $20.00 for breaching quarantine which was placed on her household by Medical Health Officer Dr. W. Craig, of the Lloyd George Municipal District, due to the fact that her daughter was suffering from infantile paralysis. The evidence showed that Mr. and Mrs. Wielicko had visited Hay Lake the day after the quarantine was placed on the house, and also that Mrs. Wielicko had attended a funeral on the Sunday following.—Camrose Canadian.

WHO WAS THE SPORT?

A good one is told on a party of local hunters. While racing in their car to get to the duck pass for the evening shoot they saw a man coming along the road with a gun and a dog. As they passed the dog their car skidded a little and hit the dog, killing it. The hunters stopped and the following conversation ensued:

"Was that your dog?"
"Yes."
"You own him?"
"Yes."
"Looks as if we killed him?"
"Certainly looks that way."
"Very valuable dog?"
"Was that so very?"
"Will $5.00 satisfy you?"

Titled Farmers Till Canadian Prairies

Western Canada is becoming very popular with lords and ladies of high rank. From England, from France, from Denmark, and from Hungary,—to say nothing of Russian nobles, they are drifting to the prairies of Alberta and Saskatchewan to prosper on farms or ranches.

Everyone knows, of course, that the Prince of Wales has a large ranch in Alberta, close to the Saskatchewan River at Fort Saskatchewan, a twelve room house of graceful architecture and modern throughout has been built on a ranch covering a thousand acres where Lord and Lady Rodney, with their family, have decided to spend the rest of their lives, with occasional trips, of course, back to England to visit their friends and relatives. Before undertaking to run the ranch, however, both of them "hired out" as farm hands on a neighboring ranch until they felt that they knew something of conditions which homesteaders on the prairies are obliged to meet. Now they are not only successfully running their own large farm, but friends in the nobility of England have sent out their promising sons to train under Lord Rodney before they, too, buy their own ranches. Lord Rodney, son of the Duke of Manchester, is a pupil on Lord Rodney's ranch. The son of Lady Parquhar, of London, England, is another Lady Rodney's little son, John, although only eight years of age, helps his father round the farm and bids fair to being an experienced farmer before he is out of his teens.

One of France's wealthiest noblemen, the handsome Duc de Nemours, who attended the annual ride of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies this summer, was so fascinated with the country round Banff and the Yoho Valley that he is reported to have bought some property and intends to return again next summer. Prince Eric of Denmark, whose marriage to one of Canada's best known society girls was an event much heralded, has expressed his intention of following the example of the Prince of Wales.

She comes as a boon to the housekeeping sex. This bright little maid that we call Jane Gillex. She washes the dishes, the pots and the pans. The clothes and the windows, the pails and the cans. The floors and the bathtub—in short we maintain. That for all household cleaning, no equal has Jane.

PIONEERS IN RADIO

of living for the individual in the United States and Canada, has become such that he purchases his home, his furnishings, his automobile, his insurance and in more exaggerated cases, even his clothing, upon the "Pay-as-you-use" system. His salary and that of his wife are his very freedom—is mortgaged for years to come to a dozen different organizations, who charge him interest for the privilege of being their slave.

Is this condition good? The temptation for the individual is, therefore, to buy a great deal more than he can afford. He ties up his earnings in installments on luxuries that the specialization of the age has taught him to pay for within a reasonable length of time. He buys too many things at once. His salary is mortgaged too many years ahead, and as is often the case, mortgages his very life for the sake of a few more luxuries that bar him from the more reasonable purchase of necessities.

In the end, according to some authorities who blame the installment plan system for troubles in the lumber industry, every man waits for his money; every man mortgages his freedom financially, and industrial prosperity stands still until a condition arises that can solve the immediate problems which block the industrial traffic. The forest products industry at the present time has reached the stage where a wise head must present a solution for the traffic jam. The credit exercised by the Federal Reserve System has done a great deal towards guiding the market to the stability it has managed to acquire at a hold at this date. The mills themselves have aided the same cause by a more or less steady curtailment program to keep production even with demand.

These are the existing conditions that have thrust the temporary support of the industrial field upon the shoulders of the banker. These are the conditions he must consider before placing his name on the dotted line that will lose more credit upon the market. Authorities have it that these modern methods of financing have enabled lumbermen to produce and sell at least twenty-five per cent. more lumber than they would otherwise have found in the market for, but have they stepped to consider where such complicated methods of high-financing are leading the country?

Somewhere has to pay the price for credit. In the end, who is it? The individual, the financier, or the industry that has benefited by the temporary condition?—Western Lumberman.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Do you know that spices and condiments give flavor to food but do not add to its nutritive value?

This is why they should be regarded only as "food accessories."

Do you know that grinding spices, like grinding coffee, releases the aromatic oils?

This is why the manufacturer puts ground spices in containers which are as nearly airtight as it is possible to make them.

Do you know that spices are useful as preservatives and for this purpose cinnamon, mustard and clove are the most valuable?

This is why food which contains a sufficient quantity of such spices will keep a long time without spoiling?

Do you know that allspice is the dried berry of an evergreen and has the same flavor as a mixture of cinnamon, nutmeg and clove?

This is why it has been given the name "allspice."

Do you know that the white coating on nutmegs comes from an application of lime and has no relation to flavor or quality?

That is why the best nutmegs are brown in color and not lined.

Do you know that black pepper and white pepper are the fruit of the same tree but treated in different ways during the curing process?

This is why the black pepper is more pungent and the white more aromatic.

Do you know that ginger is the only spice taken from a root?

This is why small particles of it are sometimes found in ground ginger and mistakenly thought to be adulterated.

Do you know that highly seasoned foods overstimulate the flow of digestive juices?

That is why spices should be used sparingly, is only sufficient quantities to give a pleasant flavor.

Do you know that the day of whole-sale adulteration in spices has passed?

This is why by exercising a little discrimination it is now possible to buy pure, high-grade ground spices.—Ladies' Home Journal.

ROLLING THE ECONOMY ROAD

(By Irwin Greer)
(President Greer College of Automotive & Electrical Trades, Chicago, Ill.)
You can't bounce a snowball. Flies should stay single. And a rubber tire won't dance up and down on a nail or a broken bottle. Hence, the man who stretches his rubber knows a thing or two when it comes to rolling up mileage. He knows that:

Cutting of tires is most rapid when roads are wet. Try cutting a dry piece of rubber with a dry knife. Wet both and try again. Crushed stone, sharp curbs, worn edges of street car rails, edges of holes in concrete paving, do enough mischief when dry, but when everything is wet they cut severely, times as deeply. Similarly those bent nails that some thoughtless citizen throw out into the street with the ashes from his furnace will penetrate a wet tire more easily and deeply. If a cut goes through to the cotton fabric or cords, it is best to have the tire replaced, or dirt and moisture will work in.

Light and heat cause rapid deterioration. Spare tires carried should always have opaque covers. Extra casings and tubes are best stored in a dark, cool cellar or closet. When a car must be parked in the sun for several hours, a canvas or piece of burlap thrown over each tire will do its bit to lengthen the tire's useful life.

Don't run out that "down" tire by running it to a "free air" station; someone might suspect you were too lazy to use the hand pump.

Don't run over all the ash piles, broken bottles, nally boards, and other rubbish you can find; even a harmless appearing paper bag may have a brick in it.

Don't park in that puddle of oil; oil cures rubber.

Don't use the curb as a brake; it may break a casing.

Road friction is responsible for more tire wear than any other one cause. Of course we must expect some wear if we are to use our cars at all, but a great deal of wear now taken as a matter of course might easily be avoided by a little thought, care and patience. One severe application of the brakes may easily take off more rubber than would wear off in a thousand miles of normal running. Likewise, racing the engine and dropping in the clutch suddenly to spin the drive wheels or a "smart" start means a lot of rubber left on the pavement.

ACCIDENTS AND SAFETY

Four thousand persons are gathered in Chicago to attend a national safety congress. Before them are some carefully compiled figures about accidents. These show that 50,000 persons lost their lives in the United States last year by accidents. Only two malades, heart disease and tuberculosis, are causing a larger number of fatalities annually. The most serious of the situation is that motor vehicle tragedies are not diminishing. All other types of accidents are being reduced in number and in consequences. Automobiles, the safety congress was informed, were factors in 29,000 deaths in 1926.

The toll from all sorts of mishaps is largely preventable. It was agreed, in factories and industrial plants many former dangers have been removed.

There now are fewer fatalities from accidents in shops and plants each year than there are in American homes. In each division there is cause for optimism that a decline in deaths will continue as the importance of caution is recognized and more safeguards are made available. Yet motor vehicles, while perfected mechanically, are a degree that makes a larger measure of safety easy when drivers are careful and not bent on too high a speed, are charged with responsibility for more and more deaths.

Four suggestions embodied in a report made at the congress have particular bearing on the automobile holding toll. A standard accident reporting system, providing accurate knowledge on which to base preventive action, is urged. The principle of uniformity in state and city traffic laws and in the design and use of signs, signals and pavement markings is emphasized as desirable. The licensing of drivers, so that the unfit and irresponsible may be barred more easily, is advocated. Scientific study of traffic conditions in cities, as a basis for improvements, is recommended.

In the meantime motorists can not be too careful. Drivers are a danger to themselves as well as to others when they fail to recognize that the movable engine at their command is a death-dealing instrument as well as a means of quick and convenient transportation. Individual responsibility always has to be depended on in using motor vehicles, and especially so now, with such traffic congestion and a lack of uniformity in regulation.—Minneapolis News.

That some cities, should bear in mind that visitors to their city come to spend money; not to have it taken away from them.

That in some cities the principal thing handed a visitor is a cold shoulder.

That when visitors are treated rough they usually go away knockers.

Most cities have an over supply of knockers at home; no use making a lot of out-of-town ones.

HEART PALPITATED AND FLUTTERED

Had Real Bad Spells

When the heart begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, beats fast for a time and then so slow as to seem almost to stop, and the least little excitement seems to affect it, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all sufferers from heart trouble we would advise the use of

as we know of no remedy that will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy, normal condition.

Mrs. Ambrose Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes: "I suffered for some time with a bad heart. The least little excitement would cause it to flutter and palpitate and at times I had real bad spells. I suffered in this way for some time when one day I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so decided to try them. I had only taken a few boxes when I noticed I felt better, so I continued taking them and in a short time my heart felt entirely different."

ALBERTA'S PROGRESS

Although Alberta's government is not orthodox in its political alignment, the impression that the visitor gets of the capital at Edmonton and in the province generally, is that public affairs are well looked after.

It is a government of younger ministers. It is essentially a democratic government. It is contrary to ask for appointments, but it is not essential. A telephone is likely to be answered by the minister himself if his secretary happens to be out. In any event, the secretary passes on the call with out the irritating demand for information as to who, when and why.

Apparently Mr. Brownlee and his cabinet are endeavoring to run the government efficiently, eliminating unnecessary fuss as well as expense. Alberta owns two railroads for the same reason that the Dominion owns the C.N.R.—the taxpayers in any event must pay deficits. But there are hopes that the two lines stretching north and west will eventually show profits. Train service has been reduced to twice or thrice a week. The opening of the Peace River country, and a settlement of the troublesome natural resources question may go a long way toward solving these local problems.

Alberta has progressed far by reason of inherent richness of her soil, determination and steadfastness of her people and good quality, on the average.

To the Editor of The Times:

THE REVISION OF THE PRAYER BOOK IN THE OLD COUNTRY

Although having no direct effect on the self-governing Church of England in Canada at the present time, the work of Prayer Book revision is a work that has been occupying the wisest heads of the English Church for about sixty years and a work that will affect not only the worship, character and genius of the English Church but also of the English nation. Moreover, it is a work that will not only affect the English character and action, but ultimately, at any rate, the Churches in communion with the See of Canterbury and among them the Church of England in Canada. Moreover, it is a matter about which His Grace of Canterbury has recently received no less than eight hundred petitions and memorials. Although it is obviously difficult to summarize about this work, the writer has tried to present in the compass of this short article a clear and coherent account of the history, purpose and work of Prayer Book revision in the Motherland.

The Need of Revision
Apart from the social, industrial and topographical changes in the character of English national life since the date of the present Prayer Book 1662, the Church itself, which is an inherent part of that national life, has been passing through new experiences.

The prime and stiff churchmanship of Queen Anne's days passed into "the long period of Whig ascendancy and Church apathy"; then came two revival movements through which the life of the Church was infused into the dry bones of conventional Anglicanism and the Church of England is once again becoming a really powerful spiritual force in the Old Land.

The revivals just mentioned are the Evangelical which came first and the Oxford or "Anglo-Catholic" movement which is felt by many to be the great spiritual uplift the English Church has ever had.

Thirdly, scientific and philosophic thought has helped to fashion a new background for the thoughts, aspirations and prayers of the ordinary intelligent man. Through all this the old faith has proved its strength and its stability and it has been made abundantly clear that the Bishop and Convocation of the Church did not for a moment suggest that any fundamental restatement of its principles was required. The "Deposited Book" as it is called, does not alter or change any fundamental doctrine of the Church of England. The aim of the Deposited Book is to provide such enrichment of the forms, ceremonies and practices of the Church of England as is in keeping with the situation already outlined.

The History of Revision
As has already been indicated, the history of revision is a history of a process which has taken sixty years. It began with the Royal Commission of 1867 and from that day to this the letters of business have been sent from Crown to Convocation, formal replies have been returned. Only a few of the most important steps can be indicated. 1881—Royal Commission.
1888—Lincoln Judgment.
1889—Lambeth Hearings and Opinions.
1906—Commission on Ecclesiastical Discipline, in which the Crown definitely requested the Archbishop to proceed with revision according to Ecclesiastical procedure and to report back to the Crown.

1920—Answers returned to the letters of business—these contained an amended "Canon" of the Holy Communion and he said to have formed a basis for the "Deposited" Book. The resulting Act was also passed, by which parliament is left solely with the power of accepting or rejecting the Deposited Book as it stands.

1923—The Revised Prayer Book (Permissive Use) measure was accorded general approval by the three houses of the Church Assembly. That meant that it was the will of the Church expressed through her Bishops, Clergy and Laity to possess an alternative version of the Prayer Book which might be used for the time being alongside of the present Prayer Book.

From October 1925, until early this year (1927) the Deposited Book as it now stands was used and accepted by an overwhelming majority of the Bishops, Clergy and Laity. The Church has thus spoken its last word and it is unlikely that parliament will do anything else but give it formal ratification.

The Main Points of Revision

For the sake of brevity these can only just be enumerated. The Alternative Book is permissive only. It is a composite book containing both the old book together with the revised book. Some of the chief changes are as follows:

Rochester Vestments may or may not be used as desired.

The "Canon" of the Holy Communion which is split up in our present rite, is put together and made to conform with the ideas of ancient and primitive usage and with the principles of modern usage in Scotland, America and South Africa.

Reservation of the consecrated elements for the sick (and for no other purpose) is permitted subject to episcopal jurisdiction. This is partly on account of the increasing frequency of the reception of the Holy Communion, partly on account of the general desirability of many members of the church to receive fasting and partly as a convenience to overworked clergy in large centres.

There are special Collects, Epistles and Gospels for the Thanksgiving for Holy Baptism and for Holy Communion.

Morning and Evening Prayer may be shortened as is frequently done in this country and the use of the Athanasian Creed has been made optional. "Prayers for special occasions, such as are to be found in the Canadian Prayer Book, have been added and certain minor alterations such as the deletion of the word "Obey" have been made in the services of Burial and Holy Marriage.

It is important, however, to emphasize at this point that no change of Doctrine is here indicated and one cannot do better than quote the wonderfully expressive language of the Archbishop himself on this important matter.

I have thus briefly summarized what seems to me to be the more important proposals in our Draft Book. Important as they are, I wish to say emphatically that in my deliberate judgment nothing that we have suggested makes any change in the doctrinal position of the Church of England. The balance of emphasis may here and there be somewhat altered, but that more fact will disquiet no one who remembers what different aspects of the truth have been emphasized by recognized Church leaders, during the last four hundred years. The distinctive basis remains sure, and is enriched by the development of thought, the acquisition of fresh knowledge, and the upgrowth of new theories for the exposition of a truth manifold yet one and indelible.

How Far Revision Meets Present Needs

Now having considered something of the history and salient points of the revision, we come to see how far this revision meets modern needs. It has been accepted enthusiastically by about three-fourths of the church members and the minority that are opposing it, complete the revision of opposing parties making anything like an ecclesiastical coalition of the opposition a practical impossibility.

Concerning the "Simple worshipper," the Bishop of London recently stated that he will find a richness and variety in the prayers, a simplicity of language and shortening of the tedious services, an appropriateness in the choice of psalms and lessons which will make him in time come to love the new prayer book even more than he does the old.

Of all the parties in the Church at the present time the Evangelical would seem to have received the least consideration, a fact which can be verified by an examination of the book itself. Moreover, this fact was at least hinted at by the Bishop of London in the speech to which I have already referred. In spite of this, however, a majority of men of this school of thought have voted in favor of the Deposited Book. This is due in my opinion, partly to the fact that the Evangelical, optional, but chiefly to the fact that the narrow negative position of extreme Protestantism is a thing of the past and is rapidly departing with religious education. Nevertheless, according to many Evangelicals there is nothing that compromises anything that is really noble in the positively Protestant character of the Mother Church and it has been frequently stated that this view has received far greater consideration now than it would have in years to come.

Now, whether we like it, or dislike it, whether we welcome it or fear it, it is nevertheless a fact that the school of thought known as Modernism is having a distinct influence upon the character of English churchmanship and traces of its influence can be seen in the revised Prayer Book. At all events according to the "Modern Churchmen" members of the school of thought are content to support the Measure.

A discussion of Modernism would not come within the limits of this article, but although most instructed churchmen would resist any attempts to shut, doubt, deny or recast the fundamental Christian dogmas, the undoubted merits of any movement such as Modernism which claims to be based on reality and reason, cannot be ignored.

Although, therefore, there can be no place in the Church of England for any honest man who denies her fundamental doctrines, yet that does not mean that the adherents of this school of thought are not exercising a valuable influence upon the Church in presenting the ideas of Reality and Reason. At all events they are a school of thought, their influence is undoubtedly to be seen in the new book. Therefore they cannot be ignored.

Last, and by no means least, we come to consider how far "Anglo-Catholic" needs and aspirations are satisfied.

Now it is an interesting fact that although the demand for revision came from opposite quarters and although Anglo-Catholics as they are commonly called, have never shown any particular enthusiasm over a revision of the Prayer Book at the suggestion of the Crown nevertheless, as anyone who cares to make a careful examination of the book itself can plainly see, the Bishop of London emphasized this at the London Diocesan Conference. During the last twenty years the Anglo-Catholic party has asked for the following things, all of which they hold to be implicit in the 1662 book, to be stated explicitly.

1. Some further recognition of the Communion of Saints.

2. The restoration of the "Canon" which was split up in the 1662 Book.

3. A special vestment (the chasuble) for the Holy Communion to mark the special sacredness of the service.

4. Reservation for the sick (that is in plain English, to be allowed to keep back some of the consecrated elements so that those who are unable through sickness to attend the service may be given the Communion).

5. Some prayers for the departed.

6. An invocation of the power of the Holy Ghost in the consecration of the Holy Communion commonly called the "Epiclesis."

As the Bishop of London states in his address everyone of these things have been obtained. Thus it can be seen that the general trend of the revised book is towards a same and moderate emphasis of the catholic (not Roman) character of the Anglican position and most of the things which the great pioneers of this movement have always contended were in agreement with Anglican doctrine and implicit in the old book (and consequently in the book in use here in Canada) have been made explicit in the "Deposited" Book.

The revision fails to satisfy some of the very extreme supporters of the Anglo-Catholic movement who feel that it hasn't gone far enough and on the other hand extreme Evangelicals of a somewhat antiquated school of thought appear to be laboring under the delusion that it is still possible to get the Anglican Church to adopt a militant and narrow form of religion which is both devoid of modern expression of churchly practices and also perpetually suspicious of Roman tendencies in all sorts of impossible and imaginary places, and consequently are opposing the measure.

Conclusion

It is probable that the two books will be used side by side until the way is slowly but surely paved for the adoption of either what is at present the "Deposited" book or a book on similar lines as the official Prayer Book of the Church of England.

Now the writer has tried to give a resume of the history and method of Revision and has shown something of the tremendous amount of careful, prayerful thought and labor that has been spent upon the matter.

Its chief importance would seem to be the following facts:

1. The Church of England is throbbing with the impulse of new life and vigor and is really trying to give expression to that new life in a logical and conservative manner.

2. The undeniable fact that the general trend of thought in the Church of England is in the direction of "Anglo-Catholic" ideals and practices would placit n the book n use n Canada.

seem to indicate that this movement which is an effort to emphasize the pure Catholicism which is inherent in Anglican theology to such an extent that for all time all people will be able to obtain all that they need for their soul's health without the necessity of going to Rome for it; it really proving an uplifting and integrating influence in the Church of the Motherland, and consequently will in time do so elsewhere.

3. As the contention that certain things are implicit in the old book used in the old country has been acknowledged by the revisers and been made explicit in the new, it would logically follow that the same things are im-

placit n the book n use n Canada.

4. All this is important to members of the Anglican Communion in Canada because although it has no direct influence upon the Canadian Church at present, doubtless the time will come when the guiding authorities of our own Church will see fit to make a still more thorough revision of our own

Prayer Book. D. D. MACQUEEN.

Prizes Presented to the Winners of Labor Day Sports

If the appeal made by His Worship Mayor Montgomery at the matinee picture show at the Angus Theatre on Saturday afternoon last carries any weight the young people of Wetaskiwin are next spring going to be keenly keen on amateur track and field athletics. The occasion was the presentation of the many silver cups and medals to the winners of the Labor Day Sports, and judging from the keen interest manifested and applause showered by the large gathering of parents and children the city will enjoy a big year of athletics.

At three o'clock His Worship arrived on the scene and was escorted to the stage, where, assisted by Messrs. McMurdo and Bellamy, he performed a function which he stated gave him one of the greatest pleasures of his life as mayor of the city. He extolled the efforts made to bring Wetaskiwin back onto the map as an athletic centre, through the formation of a Sports Association, and was particularly gratified, he said, that special interest was being taken in the advancement of athletics among the youthful element. He explained that, on account of lack of finances, the committee had decided that prizes would be given only to the winners of first place in each event, inasmuch as the Labor Day Sports were in the nature of an experiment, but said that it was the intention of giving three prizes for each event next year. He lauded the winners individually for their prowess, but impressed upon them his belief that there would be youngsters coming up next year, and this year's victors would have to be in the pink of condition to successfully defend their laurels.

Tribute in particular was paid to Miss Norma Chiddy, winner of the girls' all-around honors, and to Messrs. Brickman and Morgan French, who had tied for first place in the boys' aggregate.

The committee desires to thank Mr. Grant, the manager of the Angus Theatre, for his kindness in granting the privilege to the committee to make the presentation in connection with one of his entertainments, and further for his co-operation in giving complimentary admittance to the prize winners.

How quickly our vacations pass; how swiftly flies each minute; it almost seems that Old Time's glass must then have quicksands in it.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Wetaskiwin Sports Association will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the City Council chamber. Several very important matters will be up for discussion.

YANKEES SWEEP SERIES

The New York Yankees won the world's championship by taking four straight games from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Babe Ruth contributed two home runs.

FOOTBALL AND THE OLYMPICS

There appears to be considerable perturbation over the fact that the International Olympic Committee has granted to the International Football Federation the privilege of extending to its players who participate in the football events at the Olympic games, remuneration for loss of time from work. President McVicar has taken a pronounced stand at the attitude of the A.A.U. of C. and has been the subject of much glib attack from some quarters. The exact situation, however, is not well known by the general public, and the concessions granted to the soccerists does not by any means apply to any other section of amateur sport, and, as a matter of fact, the International Olympic Committee is by no means of unanimous opinion in the action taken. Neither does the action appear to have been appreciated by the officials of football in England. P. J. Wall, secretary of the Football Association, E. C. Cambridge, secretary of the famous Corinthians, and Claude Kirby, chairman of the London Football Association, are among those who have come out strongly in opposition to the action of the Olympic Committee, and there is considerable opinion in British football circles which coincides with that of the Olympic Committee, and there is the action taken by the Olympic Committee places the Olympic Games in danger of disrepute.

The Olympic Committee accept "the definition of an amateur, as drawn by the respective International Federations of sport." But in article 2 of the Olympic rules it is provided that "an athlete taking part in the Olympic Games must satisfy the following obligations: must not be or knowing he has become a professional of the sport for which he is entered, or in any other sport; must not have received reimbursement or compensation for loss of salary."

Then why has the Committee departed from these principles in respect to football? It is probably explained in the fact that last year at the meeting of the International Federation of Football, held in Rome, that body decided that "amateur players may receive payment for lost time as may be decided upon by the national association governing the sport, subject to the approval of the Federation," a condition which prevails in several continental centres, but which is strongly disapproved of in British football circles. And yet only these players on the continent paid for loss of time for playing, but for time also lost from work.

SPORT NOTES

Cliff Bricker, of Galt, and Harold Webster, of Hamilton, have been definitely assured of places as members of the Canadian Olympic team competing in the Olympic marathon at Amsterdam next year. Two of the following may also be selected: Billy Reynolds of Galt, Percy Weyer of Toronto, Johnny Cuthbert of Guelph, Johnny Miles of Sydney, N.S., and George Garbutt of Toronto. This decision was reached following the marathon trial of 26 miles 385 yards, at Hamilton, which Bricker won handsily, doing the terrific heat, in 2 hours, 51 minutes and 46 seconds, leading Weyer by nearly 7 minutes. Bricker timed himself in 2 hours and 51 minutes and 46 seconds, leading Weyer by nearly 7 minutes. Bricker was the victor in the race, and the winner would negotiate the course in 2:23. He lost seven pounds in the grueling having weighed in at 138. Conditions were very similar to what will be experienced in Amsterdam next July and oppressive, and hard pavement. Bricker keeps in condition chiefly by walking, with his Airbike dog, as company, and lauds his thirty miles one day each week. Johnny Miles, the Maritime sensation, who months ago was touted as a sure thing for or sure thing, finished ninth, but confidently expects to show sufficient class next spring to be selected as one of the Canadian pair of marathoners possibly named to accompany Bricker and Webster.

The forthright annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada will be held in the Macdonald Hotel, Edmonton, on December 10 and 11. It is anticipated that nearly fifty delegates from all parts of Canada will be in attendance.

In the Maritime provinces the people have waxed particularly enthusiastic over the success of their contestants at the recent Olympic Trials at Toronto. Premier Rhodes and his government have vowed $1,000 to assist in preparing Nova Scotia athletes for the final preparatory meet to be held in Montreal early next year, on which occasion the personnel of the team will be definitely selected for track and field purposes.

Amateur soccer players of a number of sport centres, who are identified with amateur hockey and other lines of amateur sport were warned by local officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada not to appear in play against suspected professional soccer players. It was implied that they would lose their A.A.U. of C. cards.

Paul Lafebre, veteran trainer of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, died following a paralytic stroke. He was particularly noted in the game of soccer, hockey, football, snowshoeing and track and field sports.

Montreal has been having a flurry in football circles. Officials of the newly-formed Montreal City Football League sought permission of the Reginald Committee of the Quebec Branch of the A.A.U. of C. to include under a team upon which are a number of semi-professional baseball players. The concession was not granted, following which charges were hurled that pros were playing in the Railway Telephone League.

Connon, who will be one of Canada's representatives in the sprint at the Olympic games, has developed a "kick" as he calls it—a second start of speed, starting from the 50-yard mark.

Phil Edwards, the colored flash from British Guiana, who is a student at the University of New York, one of the greatest runners in the world, will in all likelihood be one of the members of Canada's Olympic team.

The Guelph Juniors, who won the right to represent the county in the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association playoffs, was subsequently disqualified. Protest had been entered that some of the players were over age. Affidavits were filed to the effect that the players in question were under the limit, but the O.A.B.A. were not entirely satisfied, and when the Guelph club was asked to make careful search of the records the result was an acknowledgment that two players were ineligible.

Officials of the A.A.U. of C. and the Canadian Olympic Committee expressed the thought that amateur track and field athletes are coming back strong in public favor. They instance that the talent which participates in the Dominion championships of the A.A.U. of C. the Ladies' championships and the Olympic Marathon Trials proved to be the most promising in years, while public favor was evinced by the surprisingly large crowds of spectators.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Alberta Branch of the A.A.U. of C. will be held in Edmonton, Alberta, at Memorial Hall, on Saturday, October 15. Delegates will include those attending the Western Intercollegiate Track and Field meet to be held in that city the same day.

The suggestions of the Dutch Olympic Committee have been adopted to make some minor changes in the day-to-day program of the Olympic Games next year, and as a result the marathon will take place on the fifth day at 2:30 p.m.

It is probable that the basketball and basketball will be added to the exhibition games to be played at the Olympic Games in Amsterdam next year. Recommendations have been made and it is anticipated they will be favorably considered.

Katie Martin, of Cranbrook, popularly known as the "Slaterville" whippet, who competed in the Canadian Olympics at Toronto, on her arrival home to Cranbrook, was presented with a huge bouquet of flowers and escorted to a waiting auto which on a banner carried the inscription, "Cranbrook is Proud of You," and a parade of the main streets followed.

Here and There

The total attendance at the Toronto Exhibition this year, was 1,870,000, or an increase of 297,000 over 1926.

The Saint John Board of Harbor Commissioners is now busy working on plans for more adequate port facilities and estimating costs of new wharves, grain elevators and everything necessary to handle a larger flow of business.

The establishment of a "Faculty of Fisheries" at Dalhousie University at Halifax is under consideration. If this course is added to the curriculum, it will be the first time in the history of this continent that lectures on fisheries will have been delivered in a college course.

As a latest development of the Canada-West India trade, ice cream is now being shipped from Halifax to British Guiana in liquid form and re-freezes at its destination. On the other hand, ice cream shipped to Bermuda is shipped in sealed kegs throughout the journey.

Application has been made to the Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners for the right to drill along the shore of Stanley Park and across First Narrows with a view to building a tunnel under the entrance to the harbor. The backers of the project estimate its cost at $4,000,000.

A saving of forty-eight hours was effected in the transport of transatlantic mail to the city when mail was taken from the Canadian Pacific "Empress of Australia" at Rimouski and conveyed by plane to Montreal. Experiments are considered to have been successful, and it is understood a future development will extend the flying service to Toronto.

Though the crop season is late, reports received by the transportation department of the Canadian Pacific Railway are most satisfactory. The yield per acre is good. From many points in Saskatchewan word comes that wheat threshed out from 25 to 35 bushels per acre, while in Alberta the yield runs from 25 to 45 bushels per acre.

F. W. Swindells, a wealthy Canadian manufacturer, is developing a model farm at Princeton, on the Midland division of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, twelve miles from here. The farm contains 400 acres under cultivation and 50 acres of woodland, ideally situated on the summit of a hill overlooking the upper part of the Cobequid Bay and valleys of exceeding beauty. His Guernsey herd consists of 50 purchased milch cows. His barns are on the Danish dairy plan and are said to be the best in the province.

It is announced that the 2,000,000-bushel elevator at Midland, Ontario, erected by James Playfair and his associate, has been completed, and that the Canadian Pacific Railway is to proceed with the construction of seven miles of line directly connecting the elevator at Midland and the main line through the Port McNicoll to Montreal. The line will be the largest of its kind in connection with the Port McNicoll, and have the effect of greatly increasing the traffic through that port.

Making the Canadian Dollar
Go Farther than Ever Before

IN the purchase of the common commodities of life, the Canadian dollar has decreased in value during the past decade.

But, in the purchase of an automobile, the dollar is now worth one hundred to two hundred per cent more than it was seven to ten years ago—is worth more, in fact, than ever before in history.

While constantly raising the quality standard of its products, General Motors of Canada has increased the purchasing power of the Canadian car-buyer's dollar.

... by the economies of volume purchasing and production, ... by the close co-ordination of resources and facilities, ... by improved labor- and time-saving methods of manufacture,

... by sharing with Canada the savings effected by increased production.

In quality and in value, the Canadian dollar now goes farther than ever before in the purchase of a General Motors car.

W.C.T.U.

During the war the British Government, desiring to control the liquor traffic in the interests of national efficiency, set up a liquor control board, which in order to lay a sure foundation for their regulations, appointed an advisory committee of recognized experts "to consider the conditions affecting the physiological action of alcohol and more particularly the effects on health and industrial efficiency produced by the consumption of beverages of various alcoholic strengths." Their report is embodied in a book of 124 pages, which contains their unanimous findings, a few of which follow:

Alcohol is narcotic rather than stimulant.

Later work supports the conclusion that the direct effect of alcohol upon the nervous system is, in all stages and upon all parts of the system, to depress or suspend its functions.

It is, in short, from first to last a narcotic drug.

In the language of the street this means that alcohol is a dope and furnishes our understanding with a key by which we can correctly estimate the results of drinking alcohol in any quantity.

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

ALBERTA HAS GREAT INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK

Though industrial development in Alberta has been secondary to that of agriculture, up to the present, it gives promise of being much more rapid in the future, as the natural resources become opened up, and further capital is invested. There are, however, many very important industries established in the province. At Edmonton, the capital, there are large packing plants, garment works, biscuit factory, bottling works, flour mill, box factory, coal mines, etc. At Calgary there are packing plants, large flour mills, a refinery, C.P.R. railway shops (which are the largest repair shops in Canada), auto assembly plant, soap works, and leather and goods, brick yards, bottling works, etc. At Lethbridge are flour mills, macaroni factory, oil refinery, coal mines, etc. At Medicine Hat are brick works, pottery plants, glass works, insect mills, large flour mills, etc. A $1,000,000 sugar plant in operation, producing nearly 10,000,000 pounds of sugar annually from sugar beets. The annual payroll in industry in the province is over $60,000,000, including coal mines.

Neighborhood NEWS

GWYNNE

There is no doubt but that potatoes are a prolific crop this year, and your correspondent believes that Art Holmer of the Gwynne district holds the record for the number of spuds taken from one hill. Radio news a few days ago gave the information that a farmer had a crop of one hundred and seventy-nine potatoes from one hill, which was a wonderful yield, but Mr. Holmer has eclipsed this, having gathered no less than two hundred and four from one hill. Can anyone beat this?

NEW ELECTRIC SERVANTS

Handsome little glass and bronze centre pieces for tables are now electrically lighted so that graceful figures of dancers and bunches of glass roses glow colorfully with illumination from within.

Along with the vogue for old ship models as an innovation in interior decorating has come the twin fad of old ship lanterns converted to electrical use. These are especially adaptable for doorway entrances and vestibules, while they are also used effectively along driveways and in isolated garden retreats.

Bobbed hair and the evening gown may be held responsible for the latest electric hair clipper with a tapering comb attachment and is of such convenient size that it fits milady's hand so nicely that she may preserve her favorite barber's trim style all summer, if necessary, without recourse to the tonsorial attentions of the lake or seashore expert.

No matter how thick a sandwich may be, it can be toasted in a new electric toaster that has appeared this fall. The device is about the size of a small waffle iron. The sandwich is laid on the flat cooking surface. An adjustable heating plate functioning as the "lid" and suspended on a handle can then be brought to rest on top of the sandwich. In two minutes the bread has been browned.
